Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 137-149 are allowable over prior art.

2. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance based on the Amendment filed on September 13, 2006.

As in claim 137, the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest that an optical pickup device having the following features:

(a) a first light source configured to emit a first light flux having a first wavelength for recording and/or reproducing a second optical information recording medium;

(b) a second light source configured to emit a second light flux having a second wavelength longer than the first wavelength, for recording and/or reproducing a first optical information recording medium;

(c) a third light source configured to emit a third light flux having a third wavelength longer than the second wavelength, for recording and/or reproducing a third optical information recording medium provided with a transparent substrate having a thickness thicker than that of the first and second optical information recording medium;

(d) an objective lens configured to converge the first, second and third fluxes onto the second, first and third optical information recording medium; and

(e) when recording and/or reproducing information is conducted for the second medium, the first light flux emitted from the first light source enters the objective lens as a parallel light flux and is converged on the second optical information recording medium, when recording and/or reproducing information is conducted for the first optical information recording medium, the second light flux emitted from the second light source enters the objective lens as a parallel light flux and is converged on the first optical information recording medium, when recording and/or reproducing information is conducted for the third optical recording medium, the third light flux emitted from the third light source enters the objective lens as a parallel light flux and is converged on the third optical information recording medium,

The features indicated above, in combination with the other elements of the claims, are not anticipated by, nor made obvious over, the prior art of record.
